

Ableton Producer's Playground Chat Room:

Here's a great way for you to share questions & ideas with me and the group, so sign up & introduce yourself & share your goals.

This group is meant as a support group for helping you through roadblocks & increasing your productivity. You can also request a subject for me to cover regarding Ableton or productivity in general.

You can type in your question to the group whether I am around or not & I'll be sure to get back to you when I am on. If I miss you, I'll still be able to read & reply to your post. Other members can feel free to respond to each other as well.

Last note, This group is about support. It's extremely important that this group feels safe and positive for all involved. Let's not turn this into a YouTube stream or I'll have to boot ya from the group, and I really don't want to do that!

Let's get creative and have some fun!
